I am writing again to honestly beg you not to cut funding for our homeschool enrichment classes. These classes are vital to our family. We are able to teach to our daughters needs and provide opportunities they wouldn't get in a typical brick and mortar. These classes and opportunities have been highly successful and we would be heartbroken to lose them. We will still not place our daughters in the typical overcrowded public system so you will not be gaining the funding for them. Please please do not cut these programs that help us and many other families.
